Spears' negative criticism undeserved

Celebrity Extra
By Cindy Elavsky

Q: What do you make of the fallout from Britney Spears' appearance on the MTV Video Music Awards? - A Reader, via e-mail

A: While I think it's a shame that Britney's performance wasn't quite up to snuff, I think it's an even bigger shame the way she is being eviscerated in the press. First off, to call her fat, as many "news" outlets are doing, is just plain wrong and irresponsible.

Spears

So her stomach isn't a six-pack -- she still looks better than about 97 percent of women today. And if it's true that Britney heard comedian Sarah Silverman's scathing remarks about her, her career and her young children, then I could see why that would wreck her concentration.

Britney came to the show to perform, not to be the subject of an unannounced roast. That kind of brutal humor was not called for during an awards ceremony. It's hard for me to applaud someone who preys on others when they are at a personal low just to get a cheap laugh.

Q: I just rented "The Painted Veil" and was absolutely stunned, especially by the performance of Edward Norton. What's the next project he's got up his sleeve? -- Janet J., via e-mail

A: Wasn't he amazing? I absolutely love him and feel he is one of this generation's best actors. Next up, Edward will reunite with his "Fight Club" co-star Brad Pitt in new movie titled "State of Play." The film is an adaptation of the BBC miniseries. Edward is a U.S. congressman facing an investigation over the death of his mistress, and Brad is a journalist following the case. Shooting will begin as soon as Edward finishes filming "The Incredible Hulk."

Q: I just saw "2010: The Year We Make Contact" with an actress who resembled Helen Mirren. Was it her? -- C.A., via e-mail

A: A few decades before this British beauty won an Oscar portraying a queen, she co-starred with Roy Scheider and John Lithgow in this outer-space sci-fi movie. As I'm sure you know, the 1984 movie was a sequel to "2001: A Space Odyssey." The movie picks up nine years later, where a crew led by Dr. Heywood Floyd must go to Jupiter and reactivate the HAL 9000 computer to understand the meaning of astronaut Dave Bowman's last transmission: "My God, it's full of stars ..."

Q: I would like to know what happened to Campbell Brown. Why is she no longer on "Weekend Today" on NBC? -- Karen G., via e-mail

A: Campbell announced on June 24 that she and her husband, Dan Senor, were expecting their first child. On July 22 she stated that she would be leaving NBC news after 11 years to spend more time with her family and to prepare for the new addition. The next day, CNN confirmed that Campbell will be filling the spot that Paula Zahn is vacating in November.

Thursday		October 4, 2007
9:01 p.m.	9:30	10 pm	10:30
NBC ER: You might get into an accident, so wear clean underwear, and don't get in the car with someone you don't want to end up in the ER with. That's what happens in this new episode when an injured teacher and student are brought in, and Morris and Sam (Scott Grimes, Linda Cardellini) learn why they were together. A recovering Neela (Parminder Nagra) is getting antsy, and Moretti (Stanley Tucci) is still getting on everyone's nerves. (N) (CC)
CBS Friday 8 p.m. on CBS
Moonlight: Sometimes it's best to come clean before someone else can spill your secrets for you. That's Mick's (Alex O'Loughlin) dilemma in this new episode. A convicted murderer from his past has been released from prison and is threatening to expose Mick's ... er, unique status. He knows this is going to freak out Beth (Sophia Myles) no matter whom she hears it from, so should he tell her first? Jason Dohring also stars in the new episode "Out of the Past." (N) (CC)

Sunday		October 7, 2007
ABC Desperate Housewives: Bree, Bree, Bree. Dishonesty will get you nowhere. In this new episode, Bree (Marcia Cross) tries to acquire an award-winning recipe by shady means. Elsewhere on Wisteria Lane, Tom (Doug Savant) is persona non grata at Lynette's (Felicity Huffman) chemotherapy sessions, and Susan (Teri Hatcher) is on the receiving end of mistaken identity -- well, mistaken occupation. Eva Longoria also stars in "Smiles of a Summer Night." (N) (CC)
ABC Boston Legal: Oh, Denny. Haven't you gotten in enough trouble without betting on cock-fights? OK, betting on a court case involving cockfighting is probably safe. Carl Sack (John Larroquette) is involved in the case, and Denny (William Shatner) is so sure Sack will lose that he puts big money on it. Alan and Lorraine (James Spader, Saffron Burrows) try to make an abstinence-only sex ed program liable for a teen's HIV in the new episode "The Chicken and the Leg." (N) (CC)
ABC Wednesday 7 p.m. on ABC
Pushing Daisies: You thought there was sleazy stuff happening in the tobacco industry? The car biz has its own dirty secrets -- at least in the new episode "Dummy." An automotive expert is killed in a hit-and-run accident, and Ned (Lee Pace) suspects it was no accident at all, especially after finding out the carmaker the victim worked for was about to launch an experimental vehicle. Chuck (Anna Friel) is pressing Ned for answers about her resurrection. (N) (CC)
